(5) Dangerous Demographics: The Challenges of an Aging Population

All over the world, people are living longer and having fewer children than ever before.

In less than two decades, one fifth of the US population will be over 65 years old. So what do these radically changed demographics mean for how we re-imagine the shape of a human life? Should we think of the rapidly increasing older population as a blessing or a burden? With guest Laura Carstensen (Ben
