3:05 Classic Concert: Steel Pulse - Living Legacy

Steel Pulse, the most internationally successful British roots reggae band, recorded live in France, 20 year in to their career. The group formed in the West Indian immigrant ghetto area of Handsworth in Birmingham in 1975 and was known for their allegiance to traditional Jamaican rasta principles - musically, socially and politically. After initially struggling to find gigs as a Rastafarian group, the late 70's punk movement opened up performance opportunities and a new audience for their 'protest reggae'. Their 1978 debut LP "Handsworth Revolution" is regarded as a landmark recording in British reggae and songs from that album such as "Prodigal Son" and "Ku Klux Klan" are included here (Tuff Gong)
